Roger Pratt is a New York City psychic and Tarot Reader. He was the owner of a popular Greenwich Village magickal shop called Altar Egos / Predictions for 10 years, and has been featured on many television shows including Late Night with David Letterman.

His mother was a Scottish witch and it was at her knee that he learned the various magickal traditions with which he is conversant. These include various traditions of the Craft; the Qabalah; Egyptian, Greek and Roman pantheistic practices; Runecraft; Santeria; Buddhism; Hinduism; and has quite a vast knowledge of the world's religions.

Roger is a Third Degree High Priest in both the Gardnerian and Welsh Traditions of Witchcraft, and was one of the Elders featured in the book, Keepers of the Flame, by Morganna Davies and Arianna Lynch.

He has been reading the Tarot professionally for close to 50 years, and currently offers consultations by telephone. Over the course of the years he has developed an international clientele which includes many celebrities. Widely sought out in his advisory capacity for magickal and ritual tips, Roger has taught many varieties of Tarot courses for the last 30 years.

An hour-long consultation consisting of a general reading for the year ahead, and concluding with the answering of specific questions is $200.

A half-hour session consists of the answering of specific questions and is $100.

The same prices apply to one hour or half-hour Magickal advice, or Ritual consultations.
